"As I have said many times, and believe with all my heart, the coalit that can have the greatest impact u the struggle for human dignity here America is that of the Negro and th forces of labor, because their fortun are so closely intertwined."
"For we must come to see that peace is not merely the absence of some negative force. It is the presence of a positive force. True peace is not merely the absence of tension, but it is the presence of justice and brotherhood."
